Visit BLÜCHER at the EATS Show to Discover HygienicPro® Solutions for Food & Beverage Processing

October 28–30, 2025 | Chicago, IL | Booth #3302

BLÜCHER, a Watts brand and global leader in stainless steel drainage solutions, will be showcasing its HygienicPro® drainage system at the upcoming EATS Show, taking place October 28–30.

Designed specifically for the food and beverage processing industry, HygienicPro® helps facilities achieve cleaner, safer, and more efficient operations by improving hygiene, reducing downtime, and streamlining cleaning processes. Attendees will also have the opportunity to explore BLÜCHER's labor-saving Push-Fit Stainless Steel Pipe solutions at the booth.

As an added bonus, visitors to Booth #3302 can enter a drawing to win a YETI Tote Soft Cooler. The drawing will take place following the show, and the prize will be shipped directly to the winner.

Join BLÜCHER at the EATS Show to learn how HygienicPro® and Push-Fit Pipe can help advance your facility's commitment to food safety and efficiency.
